Deep-Seated Abscess in the Hip.

Remarkable Recovery after undergoing three operations without success.

Our Portrait is of Mrs. LAMSDON, of Mot's Mill, Witham, Essex, England, who writes: "I am writing to tell you of the benefit I have received from your Chlorodyne. I had a deep-seated abscess in my hip and was laid up about fourteen months not able to do anything. I was in hospital nine months and had three operations. Still I was no better. I asked to come home. I had been home three weeks still feeling very ill, so I thought I would try your Chlorodyne. The first bottle I used fetched the pus out more than ever, and by the time I had taken half the second bottle I began to feel better, and the discharge began to get less. I prepared with the mixture, and after a few weeks began to get about a little on crutches out of doors. Then I began to get stronger, and now I am feeling better than I have done for years. The abscess is quite healed—I can now do my work and walk quite a long distance with a stick. I am sure if people suffering the same as I was would give Clarke's Blood Mixture a fair trial it would do them good. You can make whatever use you like of this letter."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Pains in the Back, Stiffness of Joints, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatic Stiffness, Constipation, and all ailments arising from impure blood. ## BLIND EX-SOLDIER.

INQUEST STORY OF WIFE'S DOUBLE LIFE.

CORONER AND MURDER JUSTIFICATION.

"If ever a man had provocation in the ordinary sense of the word he is the husband of this woman," said Mr. Ingleby Oddie at the end of the inquest at Battersea on Mabel Frances Meader, 24, whom the jury found had been wilfully murdered by her husband, Alfred Arthur (known as Richard) Meader, a blind matmaker, aged 26, of 21, Boundaries-road, Balham, S.W.

Earlier in the day the husband, an ex-soldier, groped his way into the dock at South Western Police Court, where he was formally charged with strangling his wife and then attempting to commit suicide.

Meader, a slight, pale, clean-shaven man, wore a scarf round his neck, and the incisions he is alleged to have made in his throat with a safety razor blade were obviously not dangerous. Dark spectacles shaded his eyes and he stood in the fixed, immobile manner peculiar to the blind. He was remanded for a week.

Catherine Amelia Murray, mother of the dead wife, giving evidence at the inquest, said Meader, who married her daughter on Christmas Day 1916, ill-treated his wife. About two years ago they sold up their shop, and last January the wife left Meader and would not tell him where she lived.

MEADER'S SIGHT.
"What do you know about Meader's eyesight?" asked Mr. Oddie. "When a young woman was passing he told me he did not like her dress," replied Mrs. Murray. "He also said he could see well enough to see my daughter anywhere, and, raising his glasses, remarked: 'If it were not for my wife and child I should not have to wear these.'"

Mr. Oddie: Referring to his pension, I suppose I—I suppose that is what he meant.
Dr. MacCormac, resident-superintendent of St. James's Infirmary, Wandsworth, having described the dead woman's injuries, added that Meader had often complained to him about his wife, saying: "If you want to see money go watch my wife. She can make it go." Meader also blamed his wife for not going home at night and for going about with men.

Complaining that she did not look after the home, he said: "I'll spoil her face so that nobody else shall take a fancy to her, and she will be glad to stay at home." Randall, said Meader told him his wife was trying to get possession of the child and had said she would not come home any more.

Margaret Hall, the wife of a carman, said she occupied two floors at Meader's house. She spoke of quarrels between the Meaders, and said that last Christmas, when Meader would not let his wife in at 2 o'clock in the morning, she smashed the glass panel of the door. At noon on a Wednesday she heard the couple quarrelling, but at 12.50 all was quiet. "At 12.10 I saw Meader standing at the gate, and he said, 'Did you hear the missus?' I said 'Yes.' 'She's gone,' he said. Previous to that I had heard him go to the front door and shout, 'Now go, and don't come back again.' He then banged the door."

LETTERS IN HANDBAG.

Police-Sergeant Waller said before he was charged with murder Meader said, "I hope she's dead. I shan't hang for it." Afterwards he said, "If she's dead I'm sorry for it. She wanted some money and upset me, and I strangled her." Pointing to a woman's handbag containing letters, Meader said, "There's enough in there to justify me doing her in."

Ida Frederick, an apartment house keeper, of Litchfield-street, Charing Cross-road, W.C., said she knew Mrs. Meader as Maisie Carter. She and another young woman took a furnished room at her house on June 20, paying 22s. 6d. a week. She said she and her companion were waitresses but were out of employment. They stayed for nine days, and on two occasions Mrs. Meader did not come home at night.

FOR A WEAK STOMACH.

As a general rule all you need to do is to adopt a diet suited to your age and occupation and to keep your bowels regular. When you feel that you have eaten too much and when constipated take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. For sale by all Chemists and Grocers.

Mr. Oddie: Were they visited by men?—No. Men were not allowed to call for them, but a man left a letter for Miss Carter. The women left at her request on June 30. Mrs. Meader said she was single.

Divisional Inspector James Barrett said that the letters in the handbag referred to by Meader were from men and phrased in very affectionate terms.

Mr. Oddie, addressing the jury, said Meader and his wife had lived unhappily. He thought undoubtedly it was the woman's own fault. She left him first two years ago to go to Brighton with a man and then left him again finally in January. Meader had tried to get her to live a decent life and look after her child instead of going about with men. There was no doubt from the letters what kind of life she had been living.

She was a well-built woman, he a blind man. There must have been a dreadful struggle, a terrible scene in that room. The question of provocation did not lie with that court. "In the ordinary every-day meaning of the word I expect he has had as much provocation as anybody ever had."

The jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder, as directed by the coroner.

ECZEMA 5 YEARS
ALL OVER SCALP

Burned and Itched. Had Hair Cut Off. Cuticura Heals.

"I suffered for five years with eczema. It broke out in sore eruptions all over my scalp and I had to have my hair cut off. My hair fell out, and at times the burning and itching were so bad I thought I should go mad. I could get but very little sleep. I tried many different remedies but all to no avail. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using four tablets of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Selma E. M. Norton, 7, Down View Terrace, West Lancashire; Mr. Worth, Ing, Sussex, Eng.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

BIG CRICKET SCORE.

HENDREN MAKES 277.

LONDON, August 25.

Playing at Lord's against Kent, Middlesex won on the first innings. Hendren scored 277, unfinished, the highest score of his career and the highest of the season, beating Hardinge's 249 for Kent against Leicestershire. The record score for the Lord's ground was the 278 scored by William Ward when playing for the Marylebone Club against Norfolk in 1820.

Gloucestershire beat Warwickshire by an innings and 163 runs, Dipper (Gloucester) scoring 125 unfinished. Warwickshire made 80 in their first innings, Parker taking 8 wickets for 29; in their second effort they scored 73, Parker taking 6 for 32.

Yorkshire won by ten wickets from Hampshire, Rhodes making 106. Hampshire only made 44 in their second innings, Waddington taking 4 for 24 and Kilder 6 for 13.

Lancashire drew with Essex at Manchester. Makepeace scoring 150.

Sussex won by eight wickets from Northamptonshire for whom Bagnall made 103. In their first innings Northamptonshire made 93, Tate taking 5 for 19 and A. H. Gilligan 4 for 13.

AUSTRIA'S DESPERATE FLIGHT.

CAUSES DIPLOMATIC STRUGGLE.

LONDON, August 26.

A tense diplomatic struggle among Slavs, Germans and Italians has begun in consequence of the almost desperate situation of Austria. Doctor Seipel, the Austrian Chancellor, visited Prague and Berlin to seek help to prevent the collapse of Austria and is now conferring with Signor Schanzer the Italian Foreign Minister, at Verona in regard to which France is very closely watching developments. The French are opposed to the union of Austria with Germany or Italy but it is reported that they would favour the union of Austria with the Slav states composing the little entente but this is impossible owing to the attitude of Italy which threatens to intervene if Austria falls into revolution or attempts to unite with Germany or the little entente. It is stated that Signor Schanzer made this threat to the London conference when Mr. Lloyd George told him its might mean war.

THE AMERICAN DISCLAIMER.

BRITISH OFFICIAL EXPLANATION.

LONDON, August 25.

An authoritative announcement is made replying to Mr. Mellon's Washington statement. It admits that practically all the money borrowed from America was applied towards meeting British expenditure in the United States. Nevertheless Britain would not have required assistance from America had Britain not been compelled to make advances to the allies. The statement concludes that early in 1918 Britain pressed the United States to relieve it of responsibility for financing the allies, offering in return to finance all her own expenditure in the United States without borrowing, but America declined the proposal.

"MAKING CHINA MILITARISTIC."

BERTRAND RUSSELL ACCUSES EUROPEANS.

LONDON, August 25.

Mr. Bertrand Russell, who was recently in China, addressing the Women's International League for Peace and Liberty, declared that if the Europeans continued their present policy in China she would become a great militarist country, although she was not that yet, and perhaps all that constituted the beauty of Chinese civilisation would be destroyed for evermore.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.

A LABOUR VIEW.

TORONTO, August 25.

The Dominion trade and labour congress at Montreal adopted a report expressing the opinion that "entire prohibition of immigration is impracticable and inadvisable for Canada except in the case of Orientals and our efforts should be towards effective supervision and regulation."

REPARATIONS TANGLE.

STILL SOME HOPE.

LONDON, August 25.

Reports from Berlin regarding the situation between the reparations commission and the Cabinet somewhat conflict but anyhow it is indicated to-day that the discussions have not entirely concluded and that although agreement so far has not been reached Germany is preparing new proposals for submission.

GERMAN OFFER REJECTED.

BERLIN, August 25.

In the course of a conference with a trade unions' deputation Herr Wirth stated that the reparations commission rejected an offer to create a reserve fund in foreign currency which would be at the disposal of the entente should Germany default as regards wood and coal deliveries. He added that negotiations in respect of coal mines and forests were proceeding.

AN ARRANGEMENT MADE.

BERLIN, August 25.

It is officially announced that semi-official negotiations between Sir John Bradbury and M. Maclure and the Government concluded with an arrangement which substantially consists of Germany guaranteeing future deliveries of coal and timber by bills on large German industries. The reparations commissioners departed for Paris where they will submit the results of their mission to their colleagues.

ALLIANCE BANK OF SIMLA.

LONDON, August 25.

The report of the Alliance Bank of Simla for the year ended June 30 shows that the directors appropriated a reserve fund of 44 lakhs to meet losses and doubtful debts. A final dividend on ordinary shares for the year was passed, thus the return for the year is confined to an interim distribution of seven per cent. Sir David Yale accepted the chairmanship of the bank whose head office is being transferred from Simla to Calcutta.

RUSSIA STILL STARVES.

GIGANTIC EFFORTS NEEDED.

GENEVA.

In view of the recent contradictory statements in regard to famine in Russia the soviet has issued an official statement that the need is still great. Thousands of children are homeless and must be fed and clothed. The peasants are completely ruined and gigantic efforts are necessary to enable the cultivation of a sufficient area. The situation in the Crimea is worse than last year owing to drought and locusts.

NEW GLIDER ACHIEVEMENTS.

BERLIN, August 25.

The glider competition in the Rhoen mountains terminated with a new record by Hentzen who, after more than three hours flight, landed 350 metres above the starting point. The best performance in motorless flights was by Douchy who sailed nine minutes and covered three quarters of a mile.

PLOT TO KILL POINCARÉ.

PARIS, August 25.

Le Matin states that the police have received trustworthy information that a German named Guenther belonging to the famous secret organisation called "consul" is in Paris on a mission to kill M. Poincaré. The Police are searching for him.

THE MARK MARKET.

LONDON, August 25.

Marks in the course of wild fluctuations went to over 11,000 but rallied to 7,500 on favourable reparations rumours. Finally they stood at 9,000 for sellers.

THE FLIGHT TO RIO.

WASHINGTON, August 25.

Mr. Roosevelt has placed another seaplane at the disposal of Hinton, the pilot of the Rio seaplane crew, who are returning of Pensacola whence they will resume the flight so that it may be accomplished from continent to continent without change of machine or crew.

WORLD FLYERS IN HOSPITAL.

CALCUTTA, August 25.

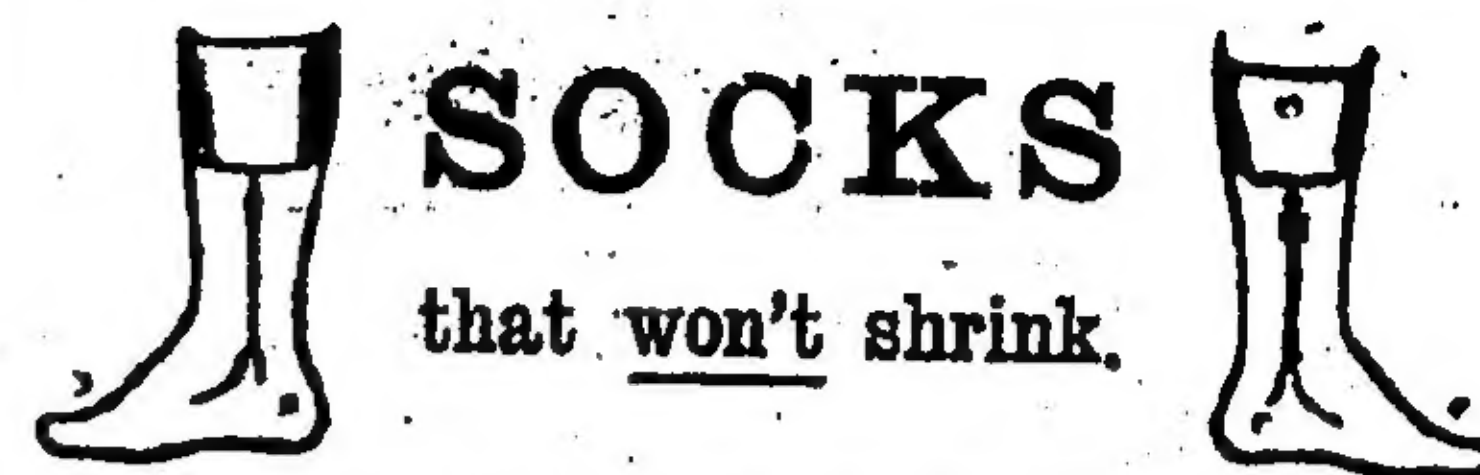

The world's flight airmen Macmillan and Maline have arrived at Chittagong and have gone into hospital suffering from exposure.

IRISH CIVIL WAR.

Corn Comes Off In One Piece

"Get-It" Leaves Toe As Smooth As the Palm of Your Hand

There is only one corn remedy in the world that pulls corns and calluses off like a banana skin, and that is "Get-It." For those who walk and stand a great deal, for shoppers and dancers, there is immediate relief from corn pain, and a quick and easy way to get rid of them. "Get-It" is applied in two or three seconds. There is no work, no troublesome plasters, no wrapping of toes. "Get-It" dries in a second or two. That is all. As easy to do as signing your name. The corn loosens from the foot and you peel it right off with your fingers while you wonder at the result and smile. That is why "Get-It" is the biggest selling corn-remedy in the world today.

Be corn-free!

"Get-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at all chemists and stores. Sold by: S. Lawrence &
Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

"TRUTH, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE"

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, AUG. 26, 1922.

ADVERSARIA.

Our Chinese detectives are not as useful as our criminals are ruthless, and perhaps our Chinese detectives are men of discretion. During the strike they failed the authorities entirely, so that the authorities were blamed by impatient people for inactivity that they could not help. But even supposing they were as good as they might be, the honest detective could never detect much because the dishonest criminal would not confide in him. European detectives, even when they know the language, are even more helpless. Their complexions are a handicap. The shape of their eyes is all wrong. In most cases their bodies are too big. In short, not to let them think I am finding fault with them, they cannot be mistaken for Chinese, and especially for dishonest Chinese. How then is so much local crime detected? The answer may be expressed in one word. Informers. Mr. Shatkin of the Police said in a recent case that the police know more from the informers than they could prove formally in court, as they could not call informers as witnesses. The Telegraph was intelligent enough to see in this a subject for editorial comment, and I compliment my contemporary on that. For I was overlocking it myself, until I read their editorial note. In these days it takes a really smart journalist to know what to talk about. But I think my professional confessions were wrong in regarding it as a "sidelight on local terrorism." Presumably, he wrote, "the reason [for not calling informers as witnesses] is that they fear reprisals." They probably do fear reprisals. I admit that they have good reason for the fear. But that is not the main reason why they do not appear as witnesses. The police would seldom put them into the box, even if they were willing to go. Once let them appear in court as witnesses, and their usefulness as informers would be at an end, even though they might escape reprisals. Informers are actually criminals. (At least, it is our hope that they are, consistently ex-) As such they enjoy the confidence of the law-breakers, and "get into the know" regarding crimes in commission or contemplated. Without them, our police would be comparatively helpless in such a community. Consequently, they must cherish them, and keep them up their sleeves, as it were.

These letters stand for C. O. S. "Charity Organization Society," and they came into my head when I read that our Government had convened the various charitable bodies of Hongkong on Monday, to co-ordinate their efforts. I want to be fair. It seems that undesirable really have created a problem, and I must admit that I can think of no other solution. I am, however, a slobbering sentimentalist, and to me organized charity sounds like cold comfort for deserving cases. I have the misfortune to know something about it in London, and if the Hongkong C.O.S. copies the London methods, I prophesy more or less organization than charity. When persons get their fingers into these pies they are sometimes prejudiced against an applicant who confesses honestly that he has neglected his church-going (although that has nothing to do with his need or his deserts) and they are credulous and indulgent where cleverly pious hypocrites are "telling the tale." It occurs to me all of a sudden that this is a matter of notoriety, so that I needn't elaborate. Perhaps my notes may sound a useful warning. At present we do not seem actually to be getting a real C.O.S. Existing bodies are to carry on in cases where they know the facts. It is only strangers who are to be handed over to the inquiry. Ah! Well! Quite a lot of them deserve to be handed over to somebody who would treat them less kindly. Sentimentalist though I am, where hard-pan is concerned, and tolerant though I be of some human weaknesses that Organized Charity frowns upon, I must admit that of late Hongkong has been infected by some of the toughest and least deserving bums I've ever met. I've had to give up going to some of my favourite dives because of them. I date not have any more to the Restaurant of a Thousand Delectable Flavours, and I am sorry for the proprietor, who is an honest and a worthy man, but timid, timid, like myself. If the new Organization can cheer them out, and keep them out, I'll forgive them for being more organized than charitable. Meanwhile, Unorganized Charity will go on as before, sharing my silly sentimental idea that it is better to be diddled occasionally by the undeserving than to risk turning down a really deserving case.

By the way, it was one of the official arguments for registering and bullying me that in that way the authorities could keep a check on undesirable. We have had Compulsory Registration for quite a while now, and we still have it, pending the Government's decision to give the China Mail heart disease by yielding to its latest demand. How is the "check" working? Why doesn't it rid us of the tougher bums? Why has it permitted this charity problem to arise? Because my dear friends, Red Tape is satisfied when it gets a Form filled up, and takes no further interest in it. The Registration Bureau (or whatever this anachronistic War party calls itself) presumably collects Forms as a schoolboy collects stamps, without studying them. It is anxious for a complete collection. I happen to know; but what it does with 'em when it gets 'em, beyond pasting them in an album, I do not know. Happy thought! as Punch used to say when it used to be amusing. The Department has the forms, and we have the all-bums. So much for the "useful check" part of it. When I think of our busy armed robbers, and then of our none too large police force, some of it wig-wagging all day at street corners to prevent pedestrians running over our motorists, some of it running in decent people for washing clothes in public, and quite a chunk of it pasting Registration Forms into all-bums, I believe I could, too, if I had half an onion. Ah! If only I could be the Government for just one month, I'd take thirty days holiday, and even so show you great improvements. That is really a good tip, if only they would take it. Let them devote the next month to repealing all War, Emergency, and Peace Ordinances, and the following six to a policy of masterly inactivity. The health of the population would go up, as the newspapers say by leaps and bounds. Drunkenness and immorality would diminish, the writing of bad verse would cease, and the people who owe me money would feel so happy they might be moved to pay me something on account. Dreams, idle dreams! In fact it will be very different. Already I hear that our legislators are hatching new laws, including:

Ordinance to Abolish Adversaria
"Declare Ice-cream Eating Unlawful save between the hours of 10 and 11 p.m."
"Prevent the Keeping of Plant Pots on Urban Verandahs."
"Incorporate a Jazz Faculty in the University and others, as Hughes, Hough and Lammert say, too numerous to mention."
"Has Adversaria nothing to contribute to the Great Telephone Controversy?" The Boss reports this enquiry from a reader whom he would like to oblige, and a nod is as witty as a wink to a hiring. My attitude in this controversy is one of surprise that there should be any controversy at all. I am for the absolute abolition of telephones. They encourage chatter-boxes to waste the time of busy people, and they discourage the practice of the fine art of this writing. I wouldn't use a telephone if the company gave me one for nothing, and I simply cannot understand what all the argument is about.

Will that do, Boss?
No. That's no use at all.
Well, it's all you are going to get out of me, on that subject.
Incorporated in a very satisfactory report on the Club Book Club for its annual meeting on Tuesday evening next, the Hon. Sec. Mr. Charles Gerken, is kind enough to include a statement that the inception of the Club is entirely due to "Adversaria" of the China Mail. I mooted the idea first, and am happy in the thought that to that extent I have been useful; but I am bound in honour, as well as eager to do it, to declare that if there had been no Charles Gerken there would have been no such success as is now reported. He is the Ideal Secretary, a diligent, enthusiastic, and specially intelligent worker.

I see I am expected to apologize to the E.A.S.M.A. for letting out last Saturday that some of their members have sufficient interest in politics to write letters to the China Mail sometimes. Although they paid me the compliment of making me an honorary member (a favour unasked and unexpected) and although I esteem a whole lot of them very highly, I'll see them further first. Unless the E.A.S.M.A. Club is to be the nucleus of a political organization of earnest and intelligent young men bent on political reform both here and at Home, I see no reason why it should continue to exist. We already have enough boozing clubs. It was to a potentially useful political institution that I gave my support. I know that very many of its members are earnest and intelligent politicians. I also know (and said so last Saturday) that it includes reactionaries. I suspect it is to these that I owe the snub in the letter in Wednesday's China Mail. In fact, I know who did it. I couldn't write with this freedom if I were still a member—it would be improper—so I may as well tell you that I have resigned in order to retain my freedom to be outspoken.

The constitution of this club does not make it an armed force corps which I think Mr. Teesdale Mackintosh once said he would like it to be. I never said that the Club or Association had taken part officially in the agitation against the Registration Bill, and no honest reader could have read that into my notes. I said that most of the letters sent to the China Mail on the subject happened to be by members of the E.A.S.M.A., which was true (but admittedly incorrect). Is it now pretended that the constitution of the Club forbids its members to air their political views as individuals? I think the committee were unwise to take this notice of it, but as I know who persuaded them to do so, and why, I haven't the heart to criticize them. I will merely suggest this analogue for their consideration. It is not likely of course; but just let us suppose that some day a few of the members are "run in" for being too loudly, and the fact is mentioned in the papers. Are the committee going to write in pointing out that they were not officially drunk, because the constitution forbids that?

This controversy is too petty to disserve a "social earthquake." The task of turning over the files, and reading therein a long speech by Mr. Teesdale Mackintosh, does not attract me. Let me assume (until he contradicts or challenges) that this reactionary leader among the E.A.S.M. in an oration delivered early on in the history of the Association, said something about a "social earthquake," which it was either to be or to cause. If its constitution compels it to eschew politics, how could it possibly be (or cause) a "social earthquake"? Social earthquakes must involve politics. Is he prepared to confess that the phrase was merely hot air, spouted for oratorical effect? If not, what precisely did he mean by it? If he was not an idiot of being handed together as an intelligent citizen whose war experiences had shaken them into a serious interest in politics, what did they want a club house for, and how dare they ask for outside support? Purely social clubs, exclusive, are usually supported exclusively by the members thereof. Let us assume, for argument's sake, that some day, "they" try to introduce conscription. This is a matter about which the members hold divided opinions. The majority, I think, are against it. Mr. Teesdale Mackintosh, I dare say, is not. What are they doing with a constitution that debars them from passing a collective vote, as an Association, which would carry great weight? Let them change the constitution. If it is like that, now, while they have plenty of time. They have already by their vote, denied Mr. Teesdale Mackintosh in the matter of arming and drilling as an Association. Was that proposal of his constitutional? Evidently circumstances alter cases.

I have no right to speak my hopes as to what was in the minds of the original founders, although some of them discussed it with me. I know what was in mine when I decided to back it, at a time when it needed all the backing it could get. First of all, I desired it to succeed because I foresaw it would destroy the other League, its predecessor, which I regarded as a political stunt on the wrong side. I know enough of the men who were joining the new Association to expect them to be on the right side, and I have not yet changed my opinion of them. I hoped in time to see them displacing the C.R.A., the K.R.A., and all the other political associations, (except perhaps the cabal that will ultimately meet at 800 O) and leading public opinion by reason of their sincerity and earnestness, and their undoubted right to speak. Perhaps I had no right to dream like that. I answer that my dreams are my own.

As a purely social club I have no use for it, and if it is to be kept so (by the reactionaries who desire to muzzle it) there will be further resignations in due course. Of that I am quite sure. I have known Hongkong "social" clubs here, that spring up, and had their little day, and disappear. Such cannot live. They lack the class vitality. Like old soldiers, they fade away, and become names only remembered. I want to urge those members who love the club and believe in it to give it a reason for existing and a chance to survive by amending the constitution. If it be necessary in order to do that to ditch my reactionary friend, let them ditch him. I will be glad to send him my sympathy, and cheer him up by reminding him that he suffers (with me) in a good cause.

By the way, I know how sensitive he is to nuances of suggestion in phraseology, about which, when in a hurry, I grow careless. Let me explain what I mean by ditching him. I mean only that they should discard him. And that only if he persists in being the Reactionary. He may yet be converted. I am doing my best.

But the ex-Servicemen are not obliged to take an ex-member's advice, and I do not expect that they will. I recognize difficulties. There are government servants who are members. Whether the government would ever hold them personally responsible for resolutions passed by the Association, of which it might disapprove, I cannot say. It ought not to. So long as they respect the departmental rules against writing to the papers or addressing public meetings it ought to be satisfied. But there you are. These men would feel themselves awkwardly placed. Then again, I recognize that there must be some, perhaps many, members who do not think as I think. I think perhaps I had better start a club of my own, the Order of Adversaria, or the Anti-Reactionary Club, or something like that. There again I'm up against it. There is no time. I am to be deported quite soon now, and as a banished I can do nothing for the place. Do it yourselves who want it. Let those who are devoted to democratic principles of the British brand, who believe in the British liberty of the British individual, and dislike both real and imitative Prussianism, get together and start something. I shall be watching from afar—from Heaven I hope—and my benison shall be upon them.

Farewell, EASMA, a long farewell. I shall remember you fondly. That beer of yours (from the wood) was top hole. I could wish I had been worthier of it; but my capacity is far from being what it once was.

An agricultural labourer, called as a witness at LUCKY EXETER ASSIZES, was described as illiterate, and examined as follows by Mr. Justice Sankey:

Do you know what a newspaper is?

I—I have seen one.

How often had you seen them?

Every week when they were brought into the house, but I never read 'em.

Had you heard that there was a war going on?

Yes, I heard that.

Did you know who we were at war with?

No, sir.

Did you know that we won the war?

I—I heard that we had.

Somebody told you that. Did you ever hear anything about the battles, and warships being lost and men being killed?

I—I heard about it.

When you went into Wellington did you ever hear anything about the war?

I—I did not understand what it was about.

Did you ever see any soldiers in Wellington during those two years?

—Oh, yes, sir.

Did you ever speak to them?

Spoke to 'em, but did not understand their business, nor nothing.

The West Country newspaper from which I clipped that (it was sent in by a good friend) showed signs of wanting to jeer at that truly enviable man. But not so I. He escapes many annoyances, and he knows all that is ever really necessary.

Looked at the right way, this is distinctly funny, and yet... funny. It made me laugh. And yet...

Well, judge for yourselves. Our Mr. D. Burlingham, A.S.P., has written a book. It is a sort of manual of drill, instructions how to behave in rear guard actions, and the like. So I'm told. I haven't seen it. There is nothing funny in that. It might even be an indication of intelligence. The funny part is that our European police sergeants are required to memorize the book. Some of them are ex-Servicemen who claim to know more about such things than the book tells. And that's funny enough. I do not like to think of rear guard actions against our armed robbers and other criminals. I want more aggressive tactics, with the police going over the top, and bombing 'em out. I shall myself write a manual. But will the sergeants be ordered to memorize anything I write? The answer is Probably Not.

My roving eye catches headlines these headlines: a Shanghai paper: "Capt. Crum's Close Shave. He by 400 bullets." Surely more of a sham-pony murrer; end pass on to other builders.

DUST BIN DECEPTION.

SIX MONTHS FOR ACCUSED.

Smart punishment was meted out by Mr. E. W. Hamilton yesterday afternoon to the Chinese youth who was charged on four counts of having posed as an employee of the Sanitary Department and obtained various sums of money from well-to-do Chinese in the Colony by representing that the money was required for the supply of dust bins.

In every case where the money was handed over, the defendant made out a receipt, stating at the same time that the dust bins would be delivered later. He also told his victims that the money paid would be refunded on the payment of the next tax. The dust bins, of course, were never delivered.

Inspector John Grant, prosecuting, added a fifth charge of obtaining the sum of $50 by false pretences from Mr. Pin Chan-kong of Yaumati.

Mr. Peter Young, of No. 9, Conduit Road, one of those who were defrauded, said defendant came to his house between two and three o'clock on August 17.

He produced a document which looked very much like a census paper. He handed one of these documents to the witness who filled it up at his request. He then asked witness for $25. This was handed over and the defendant instructed the witness to send one of his boys with him to get a receipt from the office. Defendant added, "when you are paying rates this money will be deducted." The boy was sent along with defendant. At the P.W.D. the defendant told the boy that the receipt would be sent to Mr. Young on the following morning. Witness then accompanied the boy to the Public Works Department and it was learnt that nothing was known about the supposed distribution of dust bins.

By the Magistrate: When the defendant handed him the paper, he said he came from the Sanitary Department.

The defendant suggested that when he asked the witness to fill in the form, he explained to him that he wanted the paper to enable him to start a dust bin maker's business. He did not mention anything about the Sanitary Department.

The witness denied this. Mr. Pin Chan-kong of No. 81, Jordan Road, Yaumati, then gave evidence with regard to the fifth charge. He said on August 19th the defendant visited his house and said he had called to inspect the building. He asked how many people lived on the ground floor and first floor.

The defendant filled in a paper and ordered the witness to provide a dust bin for each floor. Witness explained that they had never used dust bins previously. All the refuse of the house was generally thrown into the dust cart. The defendant then said "You will be fined for doing that. You will have to pay $50 for two bins." Witness handed over the $50. Defendant told the witness he was in the Government Service.

Defendant said he got the money on loan and it was his intention to supply the dust bins later.

The Magistrate said it was quite clear the defendant had obtained the money by false pretences and convicted him on the first and last charges. The other three charges were not proceeded with.

Inspector Grant proved a previous conviction.

Addressing the defendant the Magistrate said:—This is a very serious business. You have got hold of some printed documents, and you have let a number of people know that you were a representative of the Government. You are sentenced to six months' hard labour on each charge both charges to run concurrently.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Sympathiser with S. F. C. A. work must subscribe chop-chop. See the Hon. Treasurer's notice in today's advertisements.

Mr. G. Maling, of No. 47, Nathan Road, Kowloon, reports that $25 in cash was stolen from the pocket of his trousers, which were hanging on the bedroom door, during the night of the 25th.

Sir Robert Ho Tung has received from President Li Yuan-hung an official notification of his continued appointment as Honorary Adviser to the President, an appointment which he also held when Hsu Shih-chang was President.

T. Awabata, chief officer of the s.s. "Manzanar Maru," reports that during the night of 25th and 26th, the chief engineer's cabin was entered while the vessel was lying at the B24 quay and jewellery and money worth $250 were stolen.

SWATOW TYPHOON.

WORK OF THE "CHARITABLE GUILD."

A visitor lately returned from Swatow says:

Much has been written concerning the terrible havoc wrought by the recent typhoon which was at the height of its force between half past two and four o'clock on the morning of August 3, and was accompanied by a tidal wave which varied according to reports from 5 to 7 ft. in height, but little mention has been made of the excellent relief work carried out by a Chinese guild known as the "Swatow Charitable Guild," which as its name implies was formed for doing works of charity in and around Swatow.

This Guild believes in practical work and the members set about the difficult tasks ahead of them in the most businesslike way. There was no waiting for various Committees to be formed and the consequent delays one expects. The Committees were already formed and were not only ready to act but did so and on the morning of the 4th August as soon as the force of the wind had died down to enable action to be taken, bodies were collected locally and those that could be spared from the neighbouring towns and villages, who were fed on arrival, a scale of pay and accommodation arranged, and they were put to work at once; some in collecting the dead, others carrying coffins, others digging graves, others street cleaning and others rescuing those entombed in wrecked houses. Not only did the Charitable Guild carry on rescuing and cleaning the city work, the latter very necessary as those who know a Chinese city realise, especially after such a calamity as a typhoon, but they fed the poor and starving from rice purchased with their own funds—funds collected long before the typhoon.

The food stuffs sent by the Hongkong Government arrived a day or two later and at an opportune moment for local supplies were running short and they were of very great and real assistance to the people and the quick action of the Hongkong Government in sending relief is very highly appreciated.

The handsome sum of money now being collected by the Hongkong Chamber of Commerce is being administered by the Swatow British Chamber of Commerce which has formed a very representative committee consisting of leading Chinese and Foreign business men, Chinese officials and missionaries—the latter with their knowledge of the Chinese language and of local conditions being of great assistance and subscribers to this fund may rest assured that every cent of the money they give will be spent in relief work.

A glance at the names of this committee shows that it consists of a level-headed and practical lot of men. An instance to prove this is not amiss. A day or two after the typhoon two missionaries set out to sum up the situation in the neighbouring towns and villages and their reports, detailing just where relief work was urgently required and rice and vegetables were immediately necessary.

Supplies arrived from Hongkong and other ports and the Salt Revenue Commissioner kindly placed at the disposal of the relief committee a launch to carry supplies along the coast for distribution in the devastated areas. Every town and village is chartered and supplies are sent promptly and the distribution is supervised.

Chinese and foreigners alike are all imbued with the one idea of doing all in their power to help their neighbours in their great distress. They have forgotten their own sufferings, their losses and their own discomforts, their motto might well be "Let's help the other fellow." Truly they are an object lesson to millions in the Far East. Relief work will have to be carried out for many weeks to come if death from starvation and disease is to be avoided.

YAUMATI BANDITS.

WHAT CAN BE DONE TO THEM?

Pang Fat, a miner from Singapore, was attacked by highwaymen at Yaumati yesterday afternoon and robbed of $2,000 in Straits currency. He was walking in Shanghai Street at 4.30 p.m., when he was approached by three men armed with iron bars, near the Tung-sha-Knitting Factory. They pressed him to the ground, gave him a severe thumping, and relieved him of his money.

ARE YOU GOING ON A JOURNEY?

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy should be packed to your hand luggage when going on a journey. Change of water, diet and temperature all tend to produce bowel trouble, and this medicine cannot be secured on board the train or steamship. It is very much appreciated and invaluable if you have it handy. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

IN A CROWDED STREET.

AUDACIOUS HOLD-UP.

A Chinese barber of No. 204, Hollywood Road was walking in Queen's Road at 7 p.m., on the 25th, when near the Western Market he was attacked from behind by two men who held his arms on either side. A third man came up in front, an remarking "I am going to search you," dealt the barber a violent blow over the left eye with an instrument which he held in his hand. The assailant then searched the barber's person and took jewellery and money worth $24. All three men escaped. The barber is now receiving treatment for his injured eye at the G. C. H.

OUR WAR MEMORIAL.

WHAT IT WILL LOOK LIKE.

FRONT VIEW.

SIDE VIEW.

A plain granite pylon, impressive in its simplicity, will comprise Hongkong's memorial to "The Glorious Dead." To be erected on the finest site, visible from the harbour the local cenotaph will, it is hoped, serve to remind those resident here and the stranger within our gates, of the great sacrifices made during the war. Some of Hongkong's sons are numbered with the glorious dead. The monument will mourn their loss and, at the same time, express triumph at duty done at so great a cost.

Local granite is to be used in the construction of the cenotaph, which will tower to a height of thirty six feet, while its base measurements will be 12ft. 6 ins by 3ft. The pylon will be mounted on three or four steps and on the face will be the inscription "The Glorious Dead" and above a big laurel wreath in bronze. On one side will be draped three flags, the White Ensign, the Red Ensign, and the Union Jack. The national and Naval flags combined with the Blue Ensign will be placed on the other, the staffs in each instance bearing a bronze wreath. Whether these flags will be composed of silk or bunting has not yet been decided. The ground surrounding the monument is to be laid out in keeping with the vicinity but these details are not yet completed nor has the actual position of the column been yet decided upon.

BANDITS BUSY IN HONAN.

TWO FOREIGNERS KIDNAPPED.

PEKING, August 25.

Later reports regarding bandits, activities in Honan show that the two kidnapped foreigners were members of a construction staff. The bandits forced a French engineer to write to the Lunghai railway authorities stating the terms on which he would be handed over. It is reported that these bandits killed a Japanese girl and also sacked and burned Lingpohien.—Reuter.

A BLACKMAILING GANG.

AND A THREATENING LETTER.

A Chinese named Wong Sui-hung, was charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton this morning with having demanded the sum of $100 by menace.

Mr. R. E. A. Webster appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Leo d'Almada for the defence.

Mr. Webster asked for a date to be fixed for hearing, and applied for heavy bail.

Mr. d'Almada said he wanted to know the grounds for Mr. Webster's request. He had heard nothing of the facts of the case yet.

Inspector Appleton said the defendant was one of a gang of blackmailers who pestered actors and actresses of the various Chinese theatres in the Colony. Since the defendant's arrest the actor concerned in the case had received a letter threatening him that he would be shot if the defendant were punished.

The Magistrate fixed the hearing for Friday, afternoon next, and allowed bail in the sum of $1,000.
